Yes, it is enabled. Although "Internal Display First" was on auto, now I've set it to IGFX (although I don't think that one matters, or does it?)

Which graphic kexts do you mean exactly? Should I just inject them with kext utility? I thought graphics kexts are already part of Ozmosis...

Although, the truth is, since I removed my nVidia GTX card, I got some random freezing, but I didn't bother since I wanted to upgrade to El Capitan. That is why I reflashed Ozmosis now.
