Bank iMessage data updating

It's the same error as in all your other threads about iMessage or FaceTime. Your iCloud account isn't whitelisted with Apple and since your Hack does not provide any usable Information (valid MLB, ROM, Serial and HardwareUUID) you'll get a bunch of errors regarding Apples Messaging services. Sometimes it only says that it could not be activated this time and you should try again later, sometimes it advises you to call Apple Support and sometimes you'll be able to login but not able add any contacts or send and receive any messages or calls...

Honestly there is nothing you could do about that this time except of providing valid values to apple where valid means preferable cloned values from a real MAC which is qualified to use iMessage and FaceTime (old G4 or G5 PowerMac values are not) and isn't in use anymore...
