I use Version 1.2.7 from lvs1974 which is available from github... 😊
<https://github.com/lvs1974/IntelGraphicsFixup/releases>

I also would use only the simple FakeSMC within the rom and add necessary Sensor-kext from the EFI partition...

This allows far better control and update capabilities...

As long as the FakeSMC is newer as the version in your rom, you can also add this kext in your common folder.
