Also unter Programme kann ich es sehen da steht "High Sierra Installieren" Kann auch drauf klicken dann will er aber höchstwahrscheinlich Update machen.

So mit ein alten Tina app bin ich ein schritt weiter gekommen, bis diese Fehler kam.

Starting installer creation process ...

Asking for user authentication ...

User successfully authenticated

The application that will be used to create the installer is: /Applications/Install macOS High Sierra.app

The target drive is: /Volumes/sd

The script that will be performed is: /Applications/Install\ macOS\ High\ Sierra.app/Contents/Resources/createinstallmedia --volume /Volumes/sd --applicationpath /Applications/Install\ macOS\ High\ Sierra.app --nointeraction;exit;

Installer creation started, waiting for createinstallmedia to finish ...

Asking for password

Password got with success

macOS install media creation took 1 seconds to finish

macOS install media creation finished, createinstallmedia has finished macOS install media creation exit code produced:

253

macOS install media creation output produced:

macOS install media creation error/s produced:

Password:/Applications/Install macOS High Sierra.app does not appear to be a valid OS installer application.

macOS install media creation failed, createinstallmedia returned an error about the app you are using, please, check your mac installation app and if needed download it again
