al6042 Werde ich nie und nimmer tun denn das löst die andauernden Probleme dieses Forums nie und nimmer.

What you have accomplished, by deleting these posts, is to smother OPEN critique and circumvent the consideration of possible solutions that may in the end have been submitted by disappointed or even disgusted users of this Forum, of which there are many. You personally have been the autocratic decision maker, in my particular case at least, many years ago, when you blocked me from participating on this Forum because a title of a posting of mine was in German, subsequently however I deemed it necessary to switch to English, only because of considerable linguistic shortcomings of mine, regarding the particular topic in question, when indeed I was initially attempting to converse, at least to the best of my ability, in your own native language, German.

At the time the effect on me was the same as when you hit a willing horse once too often, because it then just balks.

In conclusion I predict that this posting of mine will surely be deleted by you, without much ado, because you may indeed wish to ensure that others be shielded from what I am disseminating about my negative experience, at your particular hands, on this Forum, so go ahead and do what you need to do to protect your self esteem and possibly and hopefully smother yourself in your autocratic style of managing the affairs of this Forum, where users have no say in OPENLY expressing their opinions.

Thank you.

Note: My mother tongue is neither English nor German, but I have always attempted to communicate, to the best of my limited ability, in whatever language I feel comfortable with. I usually choose a language after taking full cognizance of my perceived linguistic fluency, relating to the particular topic under discussion. At the time I was not willing to be distracted and dictated by others what language I should use to communicate with and rather opted to never again participate in a technical discussion of this Forum, nobody will ever change that freedom of choice of mine, not even al6042, thank you.

This message has been saved in its entirety in my own personal cloud so as to be able to "put the record straight" should the need ever arise, subject of cause to the reaction this posting will finally elicit on this particular platform.

Greetings Henties.
