For the RAID, you may need to perform a complex conversion via terminal to APFS.

However, if you have this problem on single disks, it is easy to solve.

You need to start from a recovery (for me, different from 26.4, which gives me an error for this procedure).

I used the one from 26.3.

Then recovery.

Disk Utility.

Right-click on the disk. Convert to APFS.

Done.
